SMART CITIES OF THE FUTURE

MIXED-USE INTENSIFICATION

Cities are increasingly integrating and inter-connecting its constituent parts through the incorporation of emerging technologies and the understanding that the whole is more than the sum of its parts.

Join us for this revealing conference where we will examine existing city centres and new suburban centres – the ‘hubs and subs’ – through the lenses of built form, mobility options, and intelligent systems.

Hubs+Subs +

 Built Form The potential of buildings to create meaningful communities depend on their ability to transcend the confines of their own envelope to contribute collectively to better streets, neighbourhoods, and cities.

 Mobility Options An array of mobility options are key to achieve sustainable, healthy, and prosperous mixed-use communities that unlock the full value and potential of urban land.

 Intelligent Systems Intelligent systems and technology are playing a major role in how cities manage large complex environments – from the ‘Internet of Everything’ to sustainable energy management.
